Basic science, translational research and especially clinical research of interest for scientists and clinicians working in the field of endocrinology will be presented. In addition to review lectures by leading authorities, sessions will include presentations by young investigators, all together creating an attractive program for a large audience. This year we propose a scientific program in a new formula, with extended possibilities for you as a partner of the Belgian Endocrine Society.

The venue is Dolce La Hulpe Brussels, which is equipped with all facilities and has possibilities for an overnight stay. Space is available for nice exhibitions.
